

KLAN FIGHT GOES TO FLOOR OF CONVENTION!

GAS ENGINES ARE NEEDED AT WELLS

Installation Would Enable City to at Once Protect Business Interests

Immediate relief in the light and power situation for Glendale can be secured by installing auxiliary engines at each of the water pumping plants now operated by electricity, W. A. Horn, former member of the City Council, and chairman of the emergency power committee, declared today.

The electrical power now consumed in pumping water, if saved, he said, would be sufficient to carry the bulk of the load at the present time.

"These wells are down 500 feet and the water must be raised that distance, then forced into the mains and carried to the reservoirs," Mr. Horn said. "I don't know what percentage of the electricity used in Glendale goes to pump water, but I do know it is enough to relieve the present situation if diverted to industries, houses and stores."

Need Gas Engines

"When I was in the City Council, I fought for more wells and more reservoirs for Glendale, to insure a twenty-four-hour supply if anything happened to the power. There is no doubt more wells and reservoirs are needed for the city, but it would take months to put them in, while auxiliary engines, installed in a few days, would greatly aid the city right now."

"It is possible to install engines at these pumping plants, and it should be done. Only a few days would be taken up in this installation work, I believe, and the saving of power would offset the cost. The engines should be ones that can be driven by oil or by gas."

"Even if there should be plenty of electrical power furnished Glendale tomorrow, the City Council should not postpone the matter of putting in auxiliary engines at the pumping plants, for there is no telling when the power may run short again, or an accident similar to the one a year ago, cut the city completely off from power."

"The present reservoirs are capable of holding from five to seven hours' supply for normal use, and if the power were cut off for any length of time, and there were no auxiliary engines to assure a steady flow, the city would be in danger of being wiped off the map by a fire if one should start. There would be nothing to check it, as the water supply would be too low."

"Auxiliary engines at the pumping plants furnish the only solution for immediate relief in this power shortage. They should be installed at once to reduce the amount of juice being used, and allow that same amount of current to go to industries, which are threatened with a shutdown."

Committee at Work

Mr. Horn is chairman of the special emergency committee of the Kiwanis club, appointed yesterday by Dr. T. C. Young, acting president of the organization, to investigate the light shortage. This committee has prepared petitions to be signed and submitted to the City Council asking for auxiliary plants at the pumping plants, as well as a municipal light plant. Other members of the committee are William H. Reeves, Chief of Police John D. Fraser, Max Green and M. D. Davis.

What Other Communities Are Doing For Shortage

The Glendale Evening News has communicated with the following Southern California cities to learn what orders have been issued by each, relative to the conservation of light and power. The results:

VENICE—The concessions here, at night, are as gaily illuminated as ever, although the lights along the Promenade have been somewhat dimmed; elsewhere in the city, street lights have been cut 50 per cent; the pumping plant has been put on a power-saving schedule; residents, however, are not obliged to undergo any cut in home consumption of electricity and manufacturers are experiencing no difficulty in adapting themselves to the reduced program. Report made by city officials.

ALHAMBRA—Street lights on "moonlight" schedule; pumping mostly at night; no watering lawns during the daytime; Edison company pulling switch every third day, from 2 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon; plan conference Monday to take matters in hand. Report made by Grant M. Lorraine, city manager.

PASADENA—Abundance of electricity, as city has its own 16,000-kilowatt plant, costing over $1,000,000; have such a great surplus they are selling two-thirds of output to Edison company; plant generates 360,000 kilowatt hours per day; people are requested not to waste electricity; slight savings are being effected on street and public lighting. Report made by C. W. Kolner, city manager.

MONROVIA—No switches have been pulled here; the people have been asked to economize and merchants have been requested to discontinue window and sign displays; street lighting has been reduced over 50 per cent; a gas-engine pumping station is being installed but will not be in operation for another month; residents do not favor daylight saving. Report made by Monrovia Daily News.

LONG BEACH—No compulsory cut, except where street lights have been reduced from four bulbs in a cluster to one bulb; manufacturers and home consumers have not felt the shortage at all. Report made by Long Beach Press.

SANTA MONICA—Two-hour cuts are being made in different sections at different times, mostly during the day; lights along the streets have been dimmed and display signs are largely dark, but the beach concessions show no effect of a curtailment; residents are not inconvenienced to any extent as yet by the shortage; municipal pumping plants have been cut two hours daily but manage to get their work done. Report made by J. C. Steele, mayor.

WHITTIER—Street lights have been cut and the pumping plant has been put on a steam basis, otherwise the shortage of electricity has had no effect on this city; the Edison company has taken over the pumping plant and is using it to generate electricity. Report made by Whittier News.

SAN BERNARDINO—Have two power lines here, Southern Sierras and Edison; are

Mid-Western Cities Wrecked by Tornado

AMES, Ia., June 28.—The town of Ogden, Ia., thirty miles north of Des Moines, was wiped out by last night's cyclone, according to reports reaching here today. The town of Morton, Ill., ten miles from Peoria, was practically wiped out, but whether any deaths resulted was not known early. Several persons were injured, roofs were torn from houses, thousands of trees uprooted and plate glass windows were broken in nearly every downtown building in Des Moines, Ia., when a tornado tore through the city at 1:30 this morning.

Heavy Death Toll as Sailing Vessel Sinks

MANILA, June 28.—Fifty-two persons were reported drowned today in the wreck of an unnamed sailing vessel on the coast of Leyte island. Dispatches stated that there were but six survivors and that two bodies had been recovered. Reports received here were fragmentary and the unusually large number on board is regarded as indicating that the vessel carried passengers.

EXTRA! Change In Hours of Power Shut-off

Peter Dederich, superintendent of plant and production for Glendale, at 3 o'clock this afternoon asked The Glendale Evening News to announce a change in the hours when light and power will be shut off.

Light and power will NOT be shut off at 10 o'clock tonight, as previously stated. The shut-off will take place at 4 o'clock Sunday morning and remain off until 9 a. m. Sunday.

The next shut-off is from 4 o'clock Monday morning until 8 a. m. Monday.

This announcement revokes all other hours of shut-off that may appear elsewhere in this issue.

A meeting will be held Monday morning at which the future program for the shut-off will be decided.

The change is the result of a conference between Dederich and the Edison officials.

DON'T DELAY ACTION ON PETITIONS!

Drop Every Other Project Until City Secures Power Protection!

D. H. Smith, chairman of the Citizens' Bond committee, an organization formed for the purpose of securing a bond issue for the purchase of the Harvard High school plant for a municipal center and, too, for the securing of school bonds, among other projects, this afternoon addressed the following communication to The Glendale Evening News:

"As chairman of the Citizens' Bond committee, I would like to ask your co-operation in bringing to the attention of the members of the Kiwanis club and to the citizens the fact that I appreciate their endorsement of the recommendation of the bond committee that they proceed at once to report to the council on the question of an auxiliary municipal power plant. This was one of the recommendations of the city manager and approved by the council. Our committee, consisting of Roy L. Kent, chairman; J. H. Randall and Lyman P. Clark, has been appointed and will go thoroughly into the question of the advisability of establishing a power plant. After our committee as a whole has considered the report, we will make our recommendations to the council."

"Feeling that the petitions now being circulated are unnecessary and to save the time of the people who are circulating them and the time of the people who are asked to sign them, it is my recommendation that this matter be left to the report of the committee."

"Chairman Citizens' Bond Committee."

The Glendale Evening News is NOT in sympathy with the purpose of that communication. This newspaper believes that ALL OTHER PROJECTS SHOULD BE DROPPED AND EVERY EFFORT DIRECTED TOWARD THE SECURING OF IMMEDIATE RELIEF FOR GLENDALE IN THIS POWER SITUATION AND THAT ALL CITIZENS SHOULD UNITE IN SEEING TO IT THAT THE CITY OFFICIALS INSTALL GAS PUMPS AT THE WATER WELLS AND, TOO, TAKE IMMEDIATE STEPS TOWARD A BOND ISSUE FOR A MUNICIPAL PLANT.

In view of the delays since this power shortage was first brought to attention of the officials and in view of the fact that it seems necessary to get liberally signed petitions to obtain action at the City Hall, The Glendale Evening News, with all due respect for the committee of which D. H. Smith is chairman, declares that the prompt and enthusiastic move of the Kiwanis club on the shortage of power question meets with the approval of this paper and while all due consideration should be given to the recognition of committees previously appointed, on regular bond questions, we feel that this is a special case that should be presented to the people at once without going through any stereotyped channels.

NO DELAYS SHOULD BE PERMITTED.

URGE EVERYONE TO SIGN PETITION FOR MUNICIPAL LIGHT AND POWER PLANT

Members of Committee in Charge of Project Ask All Glendale to Unite to Provide For Protection from Any Future Shortage

Petitions asking the City Council to take steps toward securing a municipal light and power plant for Glendale will be presented to that body at the meeting Thursday morning, it was decided today by the members of the special emergency committee of the Kiwanis club, appointed yesterday by Dr. T. C. Young, acting president of the Kiwanis club.

Copies of the petition, drafted yesterday by this committee and printed in full in The Glendale Evening News, are being circulated today, and will be placed in all business houses, theatres, banks, churches and places where people congregate.

Members of the committee, who met this morning in Room 621 of the Glendale Security building to make preparations for the drive for signatures, are W. A. Horn, chairman, Max Green, Chief of Police John D. Fraser, M. D. Davis and W. H. Reeves.

One copy of the petition will bear the signatures of business firms who use a great amount of electricity, while another petition will bear the signatures of heads of Glendale industries, which would be affected if the Southern California Edison company further curtails power delivered to Glendale.

Mayor Spencer Robinson informed Chairman Horn today that he had directed city officials and department heads to begin immediately to prepare specifications and an estimate of the cost of installing a municipal plant. Every effort to secure such a plant will be made by city officials, Mayor Robinson promised.

Members of the committee today distributed copies of the petition to all drug stores, grocery stores, markets and other business houses, banks, theatre lobbies, the various departments at the city hall and lodge rooms. Chairman Horn will carry copies of the petition to the Glendale Realty board High Jinks this afternoon, while other copies will be distributed among the churches of the city tomorrow.

At every meeting of any club or organization between now and next Thursday morning copies of the petition will be circulated. Service clubs and organizations will be asked to appoint committees to aid in the drive for signatures. A committee of the Glendale Merchants' association will be requested to secure the signatures of heads of business firms, while another committee will be asked to call upon all officials of industries here to get their support.

Volunteers to circulate the petitions in the residential districts of the city will be called for, in order that every person living in Glendale will have an opportunity to express their desire for a municipal plant, members of the committee announced today.

Extra copies of the petitions will be available at the office of The Glendale Evening News.

Editorial!

The city of Glendale, as well as other cities in Southern California, is experiencing a crisis in the way of shortage of electrical power, caused by lack of water in the streams and lakes furnishing the power.

There is urgent need for prompt action on the part of the citizens of Glendale that this community may not be given a financial setback on account of the conditions mentioned.

There has been a neglect on the part of the Southern California Edison company and on the part of others in office, who have known conditions for several months, in not having made preparations for this shortage of electrical power. However, it is not the time to look backwards, but it is our duty to turn our faces to the front and step forward with the determination to get Glendale out of this dilemma as soon as possible.

Steam power plants must be installed to operate the pumps at the municipal water plants immediately, and the work of installing a municipal power plant must go forward with decision and promptness. The eyes of the world are turned on conditions in Southern California, and now Glendale has an opportunity to make good by showing to the people that its citizens are willing to grapple a question, such as is before them at the present time, in a business-like way, and thereby assure the industries that are now here that their interests will be protected, and also assure those who are looking for locations that Glendale stands ready to take care of them in all emergency cases.

This is not a time for hesitancy. This is not a time for bickering and quarrelling. But this is a time when the people of Glendale, regardless of what business they may be engaged in, should unite and take a firm stand to show that they are capable of taking care of themselves.

At the present the question of POWER AND LIGHT is the most VITAL before the people. The welfare of the workman is hanging in the balance, and it is up to those who have at heart the growth and substantial development of our city to act immediately on all questions for the betterment of the wage-earner.

LET US GO, AND GO WITH DETERMINATION TO GET RESULTS!

Californians Will Stay 'All Summer' If Needed, Claim

NEW YORK, June 28.—The California delegation will remain in New York "all summer if necessary to vote on the Klan and League of Nations planks and McAdoo for President," Gavin McNab of San Francisco announced, following a meeting of the delegation this afternoon to determine whether all the members were financially able to stay on here.

Enthusiasm Marks Banquet Where Plans Are Laid For Development

Enthusiasm marked the banquet given last night in the Alexandria ballroom, Los Angeles, by the Greater San Fernando Valley association, an organization comprised of the leading civic and official representatives of the various communities in the great empire for which Glendale is the gateway.

Briefly, the purpose of the group is to bring together the many interests and through co-operation and coordination develop to the fullest extent the industrial and residential potentialities of this section of Los Angeles county. That the meeting last night augured success for the future work of the association was demonstrated by the large attendance, not only from Glendale and Burbank and Van Nuys and San Fernando and Owensmouth and Chatsworth and Lankershim and other towns, but the interest displayed by Los Angeles officials who had nothing but words of praise for San Fernando Valley.

Mayor Spencer Robinson, City Manager V. B. Stone, T. W. Watson, chairman of the city planning commission, Attorney Bert Woodard and others represented Glendale, while Burbank had two score boosters present who were distinguished by their "Burbank Valley Boosters" badges. H. H. Merriek of the Greater Los Angeles association presided.

COMMITTEE UNABLE TO AGREE ON PLANK

Draw Up Battle Lines As Issue Comes to Final Decision

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Democratic national convention is this afternoon listening to the reading of the party's proposed platform.

The plan to present to the convention a resolution denouncing the Klan by name which would put the convention on record but would leave the plank in the platform without specific mention of the hooded brotherhood, went astray.

This concession was not acceptable to the anti-Klan delegates and the proposition was finally withdrawn.

After two hours of continuous reading, the platform reader was still at it at 6 o'clock.

Fight Over Platform

In an atmosphere of tension seldom seen in great political gatherings, the Democratic National convention re-convened in Madison Square garden this afternoon to battle over a platform into which has been injected, through the Ku Klux Klan, the forbidding spectre of religious controversy.

Across the street in a hotel the leaders of the party were engaged in a last desperate effort to reach complete agreement on whether the platform should denounce the hooded order by name.

At 3:15 o'clock word had reached the gathering delegates that the platform committee, as expected, had failed to reach agreement and had voted, 34 to 16 against naming the Klan in the platform.

Klan Not Named

The result of the vote was announced by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, one hour after the committee went into session.

The plank, agreed upon by the majority, condemned the Klan by inference and pledged the Democratic party to guarantee religious liberty and freedom of speech to all citizens. It did not name the Klan and therefore was rejected as undesirable by the anti-Klan faction, which owes allegiance to Governor Al Smith of New York, and George E. Brennan, political leader of Illinois.

Municipal Plant Would Pay For Itself, Says Ex-Councilman Horn; Points Out Big Danger To Water Supply; Calls On People To Act

"There is no reason why Glendale should not have a municipal light and power plant," today declared W. A. Horn, chairman of the Kiwanis club emergency committee to investigate the shortage of power and to further the move to secure a municipal plant. Mr. Horn is a former city councilman. "Whatever the cost is, it will come directly back to the people of this city within five years by reduced rates, in other words, a municipal plant will pay for itself in five years."

Mr. Horn, as chairman of the committee appointed by Dr. T. C. Young, acting president of the Kiwanis club, following the action of the Southern California Edison company in curtailing the amount of electricity the city may use, started action at once. Mr. Horn, as a former member of the council, gave considerable time to civic improvements.

Plant Will Pay Out
"A bond issue for a plant sufficient to supply all Glendale with electricity, and capable of being enlarged as increased growth of the city demands it, will be a very small fraction of the assessed valuation," he said. "Our assessed valuation this year will be between $38,000,000 and $40,000,000. It was around $30,000,000 last year."

"But the plant will pay for itself, just the same as the plant at Pasadena is paying for itself, and plants in other cities where the city manufactures the power and is not at the mercy of a corporation."

"Just today I learned from good authority that the municipal plant at Pasadena is not only supplying all the power the city needs, but is selling 200,000 kilowatt hours to neighboring cities. If Pasadena can do this, I know Glendale can put up a plant that will supply the city's needs."

"While I was in the council, I looked into the matter of a municipal plant. I was told the city could buy power cheaper than it could afford to put in a plant, and that the supply was unlimited. It appeared to be then, so I did not press the matter.

"The situation is changed today. The supply is not unlimited; in fact, it is very, very limited. We are going to have darkness, and we can't help ourselves. The corporation has spoken, and all we can do is jump through their hoop and pretend to like it. 'But we can take care there will be no further shortages, and no more 'dark ages' for Glendale, by putting in a municipal plant. All the poles, wires, meters, transformers and other equipment is owned by the city. All we buy is the juice, just the same as the housewife goes into the market and buys groceries."

"Here is one point that must not be overlooked. Suppose the switch was pulled, as has been threatened. Suppose the water reservoirs of the city were full. Suppose a big fire broke out a few hours after the switch was pulled. What would be the result? The city would be an easy prey to the fire, for there would be little or no water to stop it. 'People here do not realize that the reservoirs—that full reservoir, pumped full by electricity bought from the Southern California Edison company, holds only from five to seven hours' supply, for normal use. It is easy to see what would happen to the city if a fire broke out, and the power was off."

"To remedy this situation, and remove all possibilities of a big conflagration and heavy losses, the committee recommends to the City Council that an engine, to be driven either by oil or gas, be installed at the pumping plants."

People Must Act

"Every person who was living in Glendale about a year ago will recall what happened when there was a big fire at the transformer house of the Southern California company near Eagle Rock. Some wires got crossed, and the plant was almost ruined. Power was shut off for hours. It may not happen again for years, and it may happen today or tomorrow or next week, but we want to be prepared if it does happen again. 'A few men on a committee can not do the entire work. Neither can the City Council alone. It will need the support of the people, and that is why we have prepared petitions asking for a municipal plant.'"

Don't be a loser. Don't procrastinate. Don't say that you'll take a chance. The insurance costs are little but the relief is wonderful—when you have a fire.

WOMEN WILL BUY BLOCK OF SEATS

Members of Junior Order of Twentieth Century Club To Aid Project

EAGLE ROCK, June 28.—The young women of the Junior auxiliary to the Women's Twentieth Century club will take a full block of fifteen seats in the Eagle Rock bowl, it was decided at their last meeting. For an organization less than a year old, this is considered a notable contribution to the financing of this great project.

Mrs. Clara S. Ellis of 2346 Las Colinas avenue received a call from Miss Amy Wren, president of the Women's Press club of New York City, during the latter's stay as a delegate to the biennial convention of the Federated Women's clubs. She presented Mrs. Ellis with a mammoth bouquet, as a testimonial of the remembrance cherished by the New York clubs, of which Mrs. Ellis was for years an officer.

On Tuesday of this week, preceding the annual picnic and installation of officers of the Southern California Women's Press club, Miss Wren and Mrs. Ellis were guests of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. S. Marshall, co-founder with Mrs. Ellis of the local club, at her home in Hollywood.

Prepare Witty Paper
The picnic was held on the grounds of Elizabeth McCabe Gilmore, 4649 Beverly drive, Los Angeles, and was largely attended by members and guests. After supper in the open, a fine musical program and a witty and humorous newspaper prepared for the occasion by a staff of club members, were enjoyed in Mrs. Gilmore's spacious music room. The hostess is a composer of lyrics of a high order.

Mrs. Ellis has been re-instated as a director of the local press club.

J. Hartley Taylor, of West Colorado is putting on a large addition to his house on the east side. Miss Lillian Kirksey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. THREE ARE HURT IN TRAIN CRASH

P. E. Passenger Train Struck
By Work Car In Fog
Of Early Morning

Three people were slightly hurt in an accident this morning when the Burbank-Los Angeles Pacific Electric train, leaving Burbank at 5:51 o'clock, was struck from the rear by work train No. 1553 at the intersection of Fourth street and Western avenue, considerably damaging both trains and delaying service for some time. Albert Skeets of 215 Grennell drive, Burbank, was removed to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital at Wilson and Isabel, where his injuries were declared not serious.

Motorman William Hayes on the Burbank train was injured by the jar but was taken from the scene of the accident in a touring car and, according to a report from the chief dispatcher of the Pacific Electric company, his injuries are slight. He was taken to his home. Sergeant Lauritzen of the Glendale police department was coming down to work on the train and was severely shaken up. A report from the hospital stated that Mr. Skeets, who was a passenger on the train, had received a bad jolt from the accident, but that the extent of his injuries would probably be a wrenched back. No reason was given for the crash, but Pacific Electric employees stated that there was a heavy fog at the time. Other commuters on the car were badly shaken up, but did not need medical attention.

Members of De Molay Are Hosts at Dance

Members of the Glendale chapter, Order of DeMolay, and visiting couples from neighboring chapters in Pasadena and Hollywood enjoyed the dance given last night in the ball room of the Tuesday Afternoon club house by the local chapter. Only subdued lighting effects were used to create an atmosphere for the dance and no attempt was made to enhance the beauty of the club house with artificial decorations. It was strictly a summer affair and sport clothes predominated. Besides the patrons and patronesses, members of the advisory council

CIVIL WAR VETS HOLD RALLY DAY

Past Presidents' Club Gives Splendid Program as Feature of Meet

Rally Day, celebrated by the members of the Women's Relief Corps and the G. A. R. comrades, in their hall on South Glendale avenue, yesterday, proved to be one of the most enthusiastic and enjoyable all-day meetings held for several months.

The G. A. R. members held their regular business session during the morning, when matters of importance to members only were discussed.

At noon the monthly dinner was served to over 100 comrades, women of the Relief Corps and friends. A special feature of the menu was the large cakes donated by U. H. Emick. Mrs. T. Hammond was chairman of the dinner committee.

Present Program
Immediately after dinner a Rally Day program was presented by the members of the Past Presidents' club, auxiliary of the W. R. C. All past presidents of the Relief Corps present were seated on the platform.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshell, president of the Past Presidents' club, who introduced those to take part in the program.

The first number on the program was the singing of the G. A. R. song and the Past Presidents' song. The feature of the program was the history of the past presidents of the local W. R. C., given as a tribute to them by Mrs. Adelaide W. Imbler, also a past president. This was exceptionally interesting. Inasmuch as Mrs. Imbler did not include herself in the tribute to the Past Presidents, Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshell paid a tribute to Mrs. Imbler.

Other numbers on the program included a reading, "Mary Had a Little Lamb," by Mrs. Jane Tuttle, who impersonated a very small girl. Mrs. Rose Archer, introduced as the youngest member on the program, gave a reading, "The Rain Maker." Mrs. Carolina Kretschmer gave a short talk "To the Comrades," and Mrs. Pixley's humorous reading, "The Kid," was particularly enjoyed.

The concluding number on the program was a tribute to the Women's Relief Corps, given by Mrs. Cora Hickman Stearns.

At the close of the program the W. R. C. members held their regular business meeting with the president, Mrs. Mary Bennett, in charge. At this time splendid reports of the recent convention held in San Diego were given by the delegates.

The members of the W. R. C. entertained as their special guests during the day the past department president of the W. R. C., Mrs. Ella Tarlin and Mrs. Ross and Mrs. May Nicholson all of Long Beach.

COMMENT That's All

For San Fernando Valley
Enthusiasm, Co-operation
An 'Explosion' of Energy
Improvement Projects

By Gil A. Cowan

For three solid hours last night the writer listened to speeches by San Fernando Valley and Southern California boosters. The occasion was the first banquet of the Greater San Fernando Valley association of which O. J. Renfrew is secretary and A. Z. Taft president.

Although Mr. Taft is of the second generation of native sons, the writer knows him only by reputation as being a leading Hollywood realtor. But the work of Mr. Renfrew in the Imperial valley stands out as an achievement and the chronicling of his activity has been a pleasure and privilege previously.

More impressive than the two score of speeches which teemed with enthusiasm Glendale should be interested to know that the various interests of this valley are being solidified into a great co-operative group who are now heading the advice of Los Angeles and Southern California leaders, as well as working out plans for their own future.

And it is planning that counts most in empire building, if co-operation in carrying out the program can be had. It looks very likely that hereafter it will be "all for one and one for all" in matters of public improvements such as sewers, parks, highways, industries and residential restrictions.

That is the way it should be—a great big family of cousins to the metropolis which is a city of destiny.

The fact that the attention of officials now is being focused on the San Fernando valley is of inestimable value to Glendale and Burbank and other communities. Getting into the limelight is just what the hinterland of Los Angeles county needs.

"Scientific publicity," several speakers called it. So one might think that the whole affair was arranged for the benefit of the newspaper and advertising men. But such was not the case.

In reality, the meeting just naturally resulted in the "explosion" of energy, the expression of ideas and ideals, and the pledge of co-operation.

Some mighty effective packages were handed various inter-city agencies, including the Los Angeles City Council, the Pacific Electric railway, and the public. However, it was constructive criticism.

The immediate improvement of Riverside drive by the metropolis, the widening of San Fernando boulevard by Glendale and Burbank and Los Angeles and Los Angeles county, the development of interurban transportation, including extension of lines, the shortening of routes for the Pacific Electric and the necessity for the public to think in thousands of dollars for improvements where it has been talking about spending hundreds was impressed upon the assemblage.

Glendale, perhaps, was slighted in the considerations, but that is because of its acknowledged place in the sun. Yet, everything considered, if carried to completion, will redound to the benefit of this city.

The greater San Fernando valley, the greater Glendale. And there was one suggestion made which might bear further development. That was this section of the metropolitan area is ideally situated for the union station over which Los Angeles interests are at sea.

While that appears far fetched for the present, perhaps, if the Santa Fe builds its short cut to San Francisco through the valley—and there is every probability that it will—practically all of the transcontinental rail lines will come within a few miles of Glendale.

And they would be only too glad to avoid the congestion of the Los Angeles business district for terminal purposes.

The secretary of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, Carl Bush, got the one big laugh of the evening when he remarked: "Hollywood is the one community in all the world that doesn't need to talk about itself."

Not so bad. And after listening to all of the good things about the San Fernando valley the writer didn't have time to consider the bad things connected with the power shortage or the Democratic convention. Selah.

Express Sympathy In Deaths of Members

To the Officers and Members of
N. P. Banks Relief Corps:

We, the members of our G. A. Post desire to express to you our sincere sympathy in the loss of four of your members in a period so short as to be a real surprise to us and you. We desire that you shall realize that we feel the loss with you and enter into truest sympathy in the loss sustained. It has been said: "That death loves a shining mark." And, surely it has been exemplified in the call of Sister Bowen, Sister Milligan, Sister Shuey and Sister Augusta Haefke. They are greatly missed and can ill be spared. We ask of ourselves why they should have been taken and we spared. He who doeth all things well knoweth best and we say from our hearts, "His will be done." Your loss, dear ones, is also our loss. You are saying, no doubt, who will take the places of these departed ones? The workers fall but others are raised up to carry on the blessed service. For those departed, our hope is that they have entered into rest eternal yonder and their works will follow them. These, our sisters, have been transferred from the army hero of heroic service to the host of God's redeemed ones on the other side of "The Great Divide."

To the members of the families of the departed ones: We say, God bless you and we will all seek to meet them beyond the mystic river.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

So every sweet with sour is tempered still.
That maketh it be coveted the more;
For easy things, that may be got at will,
Most sorts of men do set but little store.
Why, then, should I account of little pain,
That endless pleasure shall unto me gain?
—Edmund Spenser.

BUSINESS BACK TO NORMAL

There has been talk of poor business, hard times, tight money and over-subdivision in Southern California. It is well-known that such a condition is largely created, nourished and stimulated by thinking and talking about it. As Major Griffin, city engineer of Los Angeles, puts it, "A financial panic is a state of mind." There is no one in a better position than Major Griffin to know the inside of the story in regard to over-subdivision, over-building, tight money and general business conditions in Los Angeles, and what is true of that city is true in a large measure of all Southern California.

We cannot quote Major Griffin exactly, but in substance he says: In January of this year we were threatened with a real panic. Banks had overloaned on subdivisions and began to require greater security on loans. Of course this started the rumor of tight money, and as rumor and gossip are always cumulative it was not long until it was being said that the banks were not loaning any money at all. This was not the case and there was no cause for any anxiety whatever—except that this rumor should become general and thus create a panic. But the crisis was passed in January, and conditions are well on their way to normal again. Prices of real estate have fallen slightly, due to natural causes, but within four or five months conditions will be the same as a year ago, with real estate values rising rapidly again.

Major Griffin says, not in a spirit of braggadocio, but as deduced from facts, that nothing can stop Los Angeles' growth. And the conditions that affect Los Angeles affect its surroundings. He has figures from the railroads and from all public service utilities to prove that as many people are coming here this year as came at this time last year. He states positively that Los Angeles is not over-subdivided, although for eighteen months his office had to care for thirty-five new subdivisions every week; although when he opened his desk each morning he had to deal with miles of city streets that had not existed when he closed his desk the night before; and although for a year a home was completed in the city of Los Angeles every twenty minutes. He says the money crisis is long since past and nothing can create a panic here but the rumor that there is one.

The foot and mouth disease had its effect on all kinds of business in Southern California, and the coming presidential election has produced the usual uncertainty and unrest in business, but as Major Griffin predicts, we are due for a return to normal conditions and an unprecedented era of prosperity within a few months.

POLITICAL PARTIES

Political parties are essential to the action of the machinery of government. Men will always differ in opinions and be divided into groups by these opinions. Our party system has its evils. Both old parties are addicted to corrupt methods, both are dominated by machines not in accordance with the spirit of the republic, both have demagogues among their leaders.

Many people, disgusted with the methods of the old parties, boast that they will not belong to or vote with any party. Women who have heretofore favored a woman's party are beginning to see that there is no reason for a "woman's vote," since the members of a family have common interests and beliefs and a woman's vote, like a man's, is determined by her interests, her environment and her training. All women will not vote alike any more than all men.

Writing about women as citizens, Sarah Schuyler Butler, chairman of the Republican Woman's state executive committee in New York, says: "The women who pride themselves on being non-partisan are gradually finding out that the only way in which any citizen can be politically articulate is to join a party. This is a difficult lesson for many women to learn, and some of them have to suffer bitter disillusionment in learning it." Carrie Chapman Catt in an address in Los Angeles recently urged all women to vote with one of the old parties.

There is no way for any voter to have a voice in politics or government save by voting with a party. The late President McKinley once said: "It will not do to hold yourself aloof from politics and parties. If the party is wrong, make it better; that's the business of the true partisan and good citizen."

Maybe that is what ails the old parties. Too many good citizens are deserting from their ranks, and in so doing are not improving the parties or helping themselves or the country in any way.

There will always be parties; they are vital to our government. The patriotic thing to do is to get into them and help to purge them of corruption.

HEARD AROUND THE WORLD

On June 28, 1914, just ten years ago today, at Serajevo, Bosnia, sounded a shot more truly "heard 'round the world" than the rattle of musketry at Lexington in 1775. It was the assassination of Francis Ferdinand, Archduke of Austria, and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg. From it grew a war in which twenty-seven nations were belligerents and 60,000,000 men were mobilized.

Nearly 8,000,000 were killed and 19,000,000 wounded, 50,000 of the former and 200,000 of the latter being Americans. The cost to all combatants in direct military expenditures was approximately $210,000,000,000, in addition to the loss from devastation and destruction of useful life, of the money value of which no accurate estimate has ever been made.

Francis Ferdinand, heir to the throne of the Austro-Hungarian empire, went to Serajevo after Bosnia had been annexed to the empire. The assassination was the work of Bosnians.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IMPRESSIONS

Farming

By DR. FRANK CRANE

One of the most important matters before this session of Congress is the relief of the farmers. Many farmers, especially the Northwest wheat farmers, are losing their farms for debt.

In 1922 the wheat farmers had an average of only $33 each, besides that part of their living which they raised on the farm. More money is invested in farms than in all the factories, stores, banks, railroads and mines put together. The whole country agrees with the president when he said, in his first message, that the farm is "a public necessity, and must be preserved and afforded every facility for regaining prosperity."

The McNary-Haugen bill is intended to help the farmers. It would create a corporation that would have $200,000,000 of money and power to borrow $1,000,000,000 more.

The object of it is to keep the price up of wheat, rice, corn, flour, cattle and meat products by selling them abroad.

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon introduced the Farm Relief bill into the Senate. He is a member of the Senate committee on agriculture and four other committees.

Gilbert H. Haugen of Iowa introduced the same bill into the House. He is a Republican, 65 years old, and has been in Congress twenty-five years. He is chairman of the House committee on agriculture.

The Farmers' National Council has worked hard against the McNary-Haugen bill. It says it would help the packers and grafters, but would hurt the farmers and purchasers of farm products.

Senator Norris of Nebraska, chairman of the Senate committee on agriculture, thinks the bill will raise the cost of farm products for all of us, and on that account will raise the cost of what the farmer buys. For that reason he thinks it will leave the farmer no better off than he is now, but will really hurt him.

Although many of our farmers are better off than they were before the Great War, many others are much worse off. Many banks have failed in the Northwest as the result of their poverty.

Whether the Senate will pass the McNary-Haugen bill will probably be determined before this writing appears.

It is a question to be decided by Congress whether farmers will be left to help themselves, or whether Congress can help them. It is a question also to be decided by the same body whether it pays to help any class of citizens.

There is no doubt that farmers will be helped by a more suitable currency and by better markets everywhere. Just how to help them is the problem before the country.

The rule is most unfavorable for domestic harmony and may precipitate quarrels.

Increase of greed is indicated by the aspects which tend toward selfishness, divorce and intense individualism.

Persons undertaking big projects of a constructive nature may meet with many discouragements during this sway of the stars.

She has large interests in the creosote business in Louisville and is chairman of the board of directors of the company of which Mr. Hert was president. She also manages several fine Kentucky farms.

Added to her ability to carry on all these varied activities Mrs. Hert is said by many of her associates to be one of the most beautiful and gracious women in American politics.

Today's Poem

FROM LIFE

Her thoughts are like a flock of butterflies.

She has a merry love of little things,

And a bright flutter of speech, whereto she brings

A threefold eloquence—voice, hands and eyes.

Yet under all a subtle silence lies

As a bird's heart is hidden by its wings;

And you shall search through many wanderings

The fairland of her realities.

She hides herself behind a busy brain—

A woman with a child's laugh in her blood;

A maid, wearing the shadow of motherhood—

Wise with the quiet memory of old pain,

As the soft glamor of remembered rain

Hallows the gladness of a sunlit-wood.

Smiles

SOMETHING IN A NAME
A bootblack was puffing away at a cigar when a patron, to have a little fun at the boy's expense, asked him if he always smoked cigars.

"Yes, sir; pretty often," answered the boy.

"What brand do you generally smoke?"

"Robinson Crusoe, sir."

He whose shoes were being shined pondered a little. "I never heard of that brand," he admitted.

"It's a name I've given 'em myself," announced the boy. "You see, Guv'nor, Old Crusoe was a castaway."

BRIGHT SAYINGS
Sally, who is exceedingly thin, called to see Pug's new dog, who seemed to take quite a shine to her, and followed her all around the yard.

This, of course, flattered her and she proudly remarked, "Say, Pug, your dog likes me better than he does you."

Pug answered: "Do you know why? He thinks you're a bone."

The Ravings Of a Grouch

I never managed or edited a paper but I do not consider myself incompetent to do so. I can think for myself, I am a keen observer, and I can hear the comments of my neighbors and fellow commuters and from all this I have deduced that there is a lot of room for improvement in the modern newspaper.

I could take the average newspaper, cut it down to half the size and put twice as much in it. I would not make a fool of my patron, the busy business man, by compelling him to read three or four columns about something in which he is interested and then have him learn that the whole story could have been told in a few short paragraphs.

If I were a newspaper editor and something sensational came up, like a murder, I would not give every employee of the paper the privilege of writing it up in his own particular style with the resulting repetition and sickening slush.

Some of the syndicate matter could be eliminated from the newspaper with no loss of interest or prestige. A lot of this stuff is on a par with the boiler plate matter the small newspapers used to run and it is employed for the same purpose. The advice to the lover is a real good comic feature for those not subject to madder. This helps to strike a balance for so many of the "funny pictures" are not funny.

I once heard a newspaper editor say, "We have all kinds of people among our readers. We have to please everyone." Why not make some effort, then, to cater to the intelligent for there are a few such among the readers of every newspaper.

The modern newspaper is dominated too much by the press agent and too little by the editor. The editor used to turn down the seeker after free publicity, now he turns over the paper to him. It is so much easier to fill space with a big picture of Dolly Dimple and her pet Pom or her newest husband than it is to scare up real news.

The defense of the newspaper against these charges is always, "We must give the people what they want." That is bosh. The people have to take what is handed to them. They would much rather have legitimate news than slush and filth about the movie moron and her domestic troubles. Why fill the paper with pictures anyway? We know what all the prominent people (both those of good and ill repute) look like. Give us news.

I know a lot more improvements that could be made in the modern newspaper but the editor is stingy with his space; he says he is conserving it for important matter. The idea! What lack of discrimination! Doesn't that prove my point?

Man Without Country Facing Deportation

SAN PEDRO, June 28.—The man without a country—Michael Alex Martinoff—will be deported to Belgium by immigration officers here.

He arrived here as a stowaway aboard the Montpelier. His birthplace, he said, was Manchuria, his nationality Finnish-Russian and his residence the last few years Hawaii, Germany and Belgium.

His entrance papers were found to be worthless, so he goes back to the last country he has visited on his world tours with the probability they will pass him back along the line to Germany.

Plans Extended Trip To Eastern States

Another daughter, Miss Clara Goss, is to arrive next week from their home in Chicago, Ill., and will make the trip east with her father. Mr. Goss will return in time to celebrate his birthday in Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Goudie entertained recently Garrison L. Stoy of San Antonio, Texas, who hopes to return to locate in Glendale.

Thoroughbred Cattle Are Urged for Dairies

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—With the virtual eradication of the foot and mouth disease in California achieved, George H. Hecke, state director of agriculture, has issued an appeal to dairymen whose herds were slaughtered in the fight against the scourge, urging that thoroughbred stock only be used for restocking and that the utmost care be exercised to secure only cattle proven to be free from tuberculosis.

"While the thoroughbred stock must be paid for, it is much the cheapest in the long run," said Hecke. "A poor producing animal is dear even as a gift. Production records are the only reliable guide in the selection of dairy stock. I cannot urge too strongly the necessity of buying animals free from tuberculosis. Be sure that the animals have successfully passed the tuberculosis test before purchase. A tuberculosis-free herd means protection to the industry and bigger profits to the owner." He said, the sea officer reports.

Bad Weather Retards Mid-West Corn Yield

The living room, a spacious affair with high coffered ceiling, the patio with fountain, cement floor, art-leaded glass skylight; three bed rooms with large, airy closets; two baths; the breakfast room, one of the most attractive you have ever seen, and a kitchen that's a model of perfection.

Adopt this plan to build from and you will be one of the proudest home owners in the world.

SHOWS NEED FOR LOCAL HOSTELRY

Lack of Hotel Keeping Many People From Glendale,
Contractor Claims

Hundreds of persons in the east and middle west are wanting to come to Southern California and many of these desire to come to Glendale but can't because there is no hotel here, R. B. Hammond, a contractor, of 508 North Isabel street, declared yesterday upon his return from a trip through fourteen states.

"There were 165 persons on the train I came in on yesterday," Mr. Hammond said, "and only two of these persons had ever been in California before. I talked with many bankers, manufacturers, business men and capitalists on my trip and all wanted to know the real conditions out here, and many are coming out to get first hand information, with a view of locating."

Sees Many States

Mr. Hammond was gone sixteen days and visited points in Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Colorado. Some of the principal cities he visited on his trip were: Kansas City, St. Joseph, Mo.; Des Moines, Grinnell, Iowa; Chicago, St. Paul, Duluth, Sioux City and Denver.

The crop corn through the middle west has been retarded considerably, Mr. Hammond said. In

Royal Welcome Meets Delegates to Rotary

A brief message received today by The Glendale Evening News from President J. Herbert Smith of the Glendale Rotary club, who with Mrs. Smith, attended the convocation of Rotary International in Toronto, Canada, tells of the wonderful time being had by the California delegation on its trip through the Canadian Rockies, terminating in the convention city. Clubs along the way treated the party "royally," according to Mr. Smith.

"The convention sessions were inspiring with speakers from nearly every part of the globe," the local club head writes. There were 1393 clubs registered with 5494 delegates and 3109 guests, making a total of 8605 in attendance.

many places only the first plowing has been finished, and indications point to a crop about 25 per cent as large as the normal growth.

Nation's 'White Spot' Enjoys
Prosperity in Greater Degree Than East

Southern California is still the "white spot," and Glendale enjoys a prosperity unknown in the east, where for a year and a half conditions have been anything but good, is the way President Peter Hanson of the Glendale Realty board sums up the situation as he saw it in Milwaukee, Wis., and Washington, D. C., New York, and other cities of the middle west and Atlantic seaboard.

Mr. Hanson made the trip as an official delegate to the annual conventions of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and Optimist International, the latter at Washington and the former at Milwaukee. He went as a man trained to observe conditions and gathered his information from many sources in a dozen different states.

Iron Constitution
The wonder is not that things are beginning to slow up in Glendale, he states, but that they have not slowed up long ago, with the rest of the country in the grip of a decided slump for nearly two years. Taken on top of that the tightening of money, the foot-tightening of money, the foot-tightening of money, water shortage and electric conservation, and he feels that "only a constitution like iron" has saved southern California.

"But everyone back east is satisfied."

The Case of Jennie Brice

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART. Copyright, 1924.

CHAPTER XXX

"I do not know. An extra precaution probably."

"You were under the impression that she was going to stay there?"

"She was to have remained for a week."

"And you have been searching for this woman for two months?"

"He quailed, but his voice was steady. 'Yes,' he admitted."

He was telling the truth, even if it was not all the truth. He believed, had it gone to the jury then, Mr. Bradley would have been acquitted. But, late that afternoon, things took a new turn. Counsel for the prosecution stated to the court that he had a new and important witness, and got permission to introduce this further evidence. The witness was a Doctor Littlefield, and proved to be my one-night tenant of the second-story front. Holcombe's prisoner of the night before took the stand. The doctor was less impressive in full daylight; he was a trifle shiny, a bit bulbous as to nose and indifferent as to finger-nails. But his testimony was given with due professional weight.

"You are a doctor of medicine, Doctor Littlefield?" asked the district attorney.

"Yes."

"In active practice?"

"I have a cure for Inebriates in Des Moines, Iowa. I was formerly in general practice in New York City."

"You knew Jennie Bradley?"

"I had seen her at different theaters. And she consulted me professionally at one time in New York."

"You operated on her, I believe?"

"Yes. She came to me to have a tumor removed. It had been tattooed over her heart."

"You removed it?"

"Not at once. I tried fading the marks with goat's milk, but she was impatient. On the third visit to my office she demanded that the name be cut out."

"You did it?"

"Yes. She refused a general anesthetic and I used cocaine. The name was John—I believe a former husband. She intended to marry again."

A titter ran over the court room. People strained to the utmost to get a glimpse of the uttermost of an excuse to smile. The laughter of a wrought-up crowd always seems to me half hysterical.

"Have you seen photographs of the scar on the body found at Sewickley? Or the body itself?"

"No, I have not."

"It's a Boy" will be presented for the last time tonight by Murphy's Comedians at their tent on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, between Brand boulevard and Central avenue, states Manager J. A. Menard. Starting Sunday, Rex Beach's famous play, "The Barrier," will go on.

The shortage of electric light and power has absolutely no effect on the productions staged by Murphy's Comedians, either back stage or inside the big canvas auditorium, states Mr. Menard. Here is one place of amusement in Glendale where patrons may sit through the entire performance without interruption or make-shift.

"The Barrier," which starts tomorrow (Sunday), is a strong play and is expected to prove one of the best plays Murphy's Comedians have yet put on. The curtain rises promptly at 8 o'clock each night, although those who wish front seats will find the doors open at 7:15 o'clock.

THE GATEWAY
"Code of the Sea" concludes at the Gateway Theatre today. Starting Sunday, "Conductor 1492" is the picture for three days.

THE T. D. & L.
"Girl Shy," with Harold Lloyd, opens at the T. D. & L. Theatre today for a four-day run.

"Two women have been fool enough to have a name tattooed over their hearts. No woman ever thought enough of me to have my name put on her."

"I hope not," I retorted. Mr. Reynolds' first name is Zachariah. But, as Mr. Holcombe said, all that had been proved was that Jennie Brice was dead, probably murdered. He could not understand the defense letting the case go to the jury without their putting more stress on Mr. Holcombe's story. But we were to understand that soon, and many other things. Mr. Holcombe told me that evening of learning from John Bellows of the tattooed name on Jennie Brice and of how, after an almost endless search, he had found the man who had cut the name away.

At eight o'clock the door-bell rang. Mr. Reynolds had gone to lodge, he being an Elk and several other things, and much given to regalia in boxes, and having his picture in the newspapers in different outlandish costumes. Mr. Pitman used to say that man, being denied his natural love for barbaric adornment in his every-day life, took to the different "fraternities" as an excuse for decking himself out. But this has nothing to do with the door-bell.

Mr. Reynolds came in and joined us. "There's only one way out that I see," he said mildly.

THE GLENDALE
"Not a Drum Was Heard" concludes at the Glendale theatre today. Starting Sunday, "Scaramouche" goes on for a four-day run.

M. C. LEVEE'S FIRST
M. C. Levee's initial First National picture to be directed by Irving Cummings, will be titled, "Barriers of Love."

JETTA GOUDEL ARRIVES
With the arrival in Los Angeles of Jetta Goudal, brilliant French actress, and the engagement of Gale Henry, well-known screen comedienne, Director Paul Bern has completed his cast of his first picture for Paramount, "Open All Night."

EDWIN CAREW'S FIFTH
Production on "Madonna of the Streets," Edwin Carew's fifth picture for First National, will begin next week. Nazimova and Milton Sills are to be co-stars. Carew is selecting a supporting cast of high individual ability and popularity.

THEODORE ROBERTS BACK
Theodore Roberts celebrated his return to health after many months of illness by wheel-chairing down the hill from his home to Paramount's West coast studio this week. His objective was the set where Cecil B. de Mille is producing "Feet of Clay," in which Roberts will return to the screen.

HIERS' LEADING LADY
Duane Thompson has been engaged as Walter Hiers' leading lady for the first of the series of comedies which he will make for Educational film exchanges release. Hiers arrived in Los Angeles last week after closing his contract in New York with E. W. Hammons, and will start work immediately.

CRUZE STARTS JUNE 23
James Cruze, who recently completed the filming of "Merton of the Movies," starring Glenn Hunter with Viola Dana, started work June 23—one week earlier than was previously announced—on his next Paramount picture, "The Cafe of Fallen Angels." Cruze is now busy assembling his cast for this picture. Walter Woods has already completed the script.

UNCLE WIGGILY MAILS A LETTER

"Uncle Wiggily! Uncle Wiggily! Wait a minute!" called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, as Mr. Longears was hopping away from the hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"What is the matter?" asked the rabbit, as he stopped twinkling his pink nose and turned around to look at his muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Please mail this letter for me," went on Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, holding out an envelope made of thin birch bark. "It's a letter to my sister up on the North Woods," went on Nurse Jane. "I haven't a stamp, but you can stop in the postoffice or a drug store and get one. Stick the stamp on the letter and mail it for me."

"I will do that little thing for you," answered the bunny rabbit, as he started to hop away to find an adventure.

"Two things more," called Nurse Jane after him. "Please don't forget to mail my letter and don't stick the stamp on yourself when you jump in the letter box. You are so forgetful, you know, Wiggily!"

"I'll remember," he promised, with a smile. "I'll mail your letter all right," and he put it in his pocket most carefully.

"I hope he doesn't forget," murmured Nurse Jane, as she went back in the bungalow to wipe the dust from the piano.

Uncle Wiggily hopped along and along until, after a while, he heard a queer little noise in the bushes.

"Oh, ho!" thought the rabbit gentleman to himself. "I had better be a bit careful. This may be the sly Weasel trying to catch me."

Uncle Wiggily looked, but he saw no Weasel. What he saw was a mouse lady trying, as hard as she could, to lift a large cheese about the size of a baseball.

"Why, my dear Mrs. Longtail!" cried Uncle Wiggily, as the mouse lady sighed and sat down on a stone to rest. "What seems to be the trouble?"

"Oh, the grocer cart left me an extra large size cheese by mistake this morning," answered Mrs. Longtail, who was the mother of Jollie and Jillie. "He just left it on the steps and hurried away. Now I can't lift the cheese in my house."

Uncle Wiggily looked behind the bush and saw a cute little house where the mouse lady lived.

"I will help you cut the big cheese in two pieces, or even three," said the rabbit gentleman. "Then it will be easy for you to carry it into your house."

"Oh, thank you," squeaked the mouse lady. "The grocery cart shouldn't have left such a large cheese." Of course, to you big boys and girls a cheese the size of a baseball wouldn't be very large. But you must remember that a mouse lady is very small.

However, with the help of Uncle Wiggily's sharp teeth the cheese was gnawed into three pieces. Then Mrs. Longtail could easily carry the pieces, one at a time, into her house.

"Thank you, Uncle Wiggily," she squeaked to him. "You have been very kind to me. Next week I am going to have a party and I will write you a letter and invite you."

"You are very kind," said the rabbit. "And, my gracious—it's a good thing you spoke of a letter!" he cried.

"Why so?" asked Mrs. Longtail.

YACHTING SEASON ON

The yachting season is on for the motion picture colony. Frank Lloyd has just finished "The Sea Hawk," and in Norma Talmadge's next First National picture she will be seen aboard a magnificent sea-going yacht in many sequences. The Norma Talmadge feature will be "Fight," directed by Sidney Oelcott from an original story by C. Gardner Sullivan. The weather, of which the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce occasionally speaks, is particularly fine for yachting, and tired scenario writers always work in a cruise for this season of the year.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. J.—Canker sores are tiny ulcers in the mouth which come from some cause which has undermined the resistance of the mucous membrane so that the germs of the mouth gain a foothold. It is most frequently caused by an unbalanced diet, especially one containing too many acid-forming foods, such as meats, fish, white bread and cereals, and lacking in the vitamins of the fresh, green vegetables and fresh fruit. Add liberal amounts of these vitamin bearing foods to your diet.

If you are suffering very much it would be a good plan to go for a day or so on raw vegetable or raw fruit diet. (Be sure the vegetables and fruit are clean). After this diet, twice a day eat lettuce or fresh cabbage or spinach (raw spinach is splendid for a salad) or tomatoes. Wash the mouth frequently with some antiseptic solution.

Mr. B.—The blood you saw in your bowel movement must have come from the lower bowel, probably the rectum; if it had come from trouble higher in the intestinal tract, it would have been so changed that only a chemical examination could have detected it. It most likely comes from the hemorrhoids which you say you have.

It will be better for you to have a physical examination. Meanwhile, until you can do that, the temporary treatment is as follows:

The local treatment is to keep them pushed back into the rectum, so they will not be pressed upon, and the application of ointments or powders after each bowel movement. A help to make the hemorrhoids stay in and to help the medication is a tampon (plug) made from cotton or gauze. This is pushed into the rectum after the bowel movement and is to remain there until the next movement of the bowels. Kellogg says that large hemorrhoids may be able to disappear by the daily application of a powder consisting of equal parts of starch and calomel, after first carefully cleansing the part.

R. Elliott, chief engineer of the Union Ice company today.

In other words, three companies are to have current supplied to them by the city of Glendale between the hours of 10 p. m. and 9 a. m., when the rest of the city is shut off from light and power. The existing power shortage, Mr. Elliott states, will cause the output of the Glendale plant to two-thirds its capacity, but ice sufficient to meet the demands of all the firm's customers will be shipped in from the company's other plants.

"It takes forty-eight hours to make a cake of ice," says Mr. Elliott, "and any interruption in the current in that time will ruin the ice. For that reason we must have a constant supply of current, even though it be diminished to some extent."

The Union Ice company has installed a tractor which is used to aerate the water and to keep a current of cold air blowing on the ice that is being made.

EYEGLASSES IN TROPICS

American manufacturers of eye glasses and frames find their business in the tropics especially heavy because glasses are worn by many solely as protection against the bright sunlight, as well as by those who have defective eyes. Among the many expressions of approval of the stand taken by The Glendale Evening News regarding the present power shortage situation, the following from the Premier-Starr Laundry Pacific and Arden avenues is typical:

Editor The Evening News—We wish to congratulate you on the stand you have taken on the electric situation in our city. We feel that it is an opportune time for Glendale to get busy and put in a power plant. Anything we can do or contribute to further this movement we will do.

A USEFUL HINT

If you covet long finger nails, but have the brittle sort that break off easily, console yourself with the idea that really long nails are not smart any more, and keep yours filed shorter. There are salves that make brittle nails a little tougher, I gave one formula last week or the week before, but nothing yet made will entirely prevent splitting or tearing.

If your nail begins to tear, don't pull off the piece, mend it with court plaster. I know that seems odd, but it's sound advice. Buy one of the tiny packets of flesh color court plaster that costs a few cents in any drug store. Clip off a little piece with scissors, wet it with your tongue and put it over the torn part of the nail. It makes a perfect "mend" and an invisible one, except, of course, that the plaster won't be glossy like the nail.

Cut off any shred of the plaster that protrudes beyond the original outline of the finger nail. Of course, when you wash your hands, off comes the plaster, and a new bit must be pasted on again. It's a nuisance to renew this shroud several times a day, but if you like your hands to look pretty, it's better than going about weeks with one ugly broken nail to disfigure them.

And, by the way, if you must have your hands in and out of water a lot, you can still save your nails by putting a bit of adhesive tape over it instead of court plaster. This stands hours and

John J.—The pilocarpine tonic is not a dye, but it acts upon the color cells, and also builds up the health of the scalp, so there is a general improvement in every particular. One bottle of the tonic should make a difference in the appearance of the hair, but it would not be sufficient to overcome a depleted condition which may have come with years.

The gray locks over the ears could be dyed, but you would be risking your hair if you had any more of it dyed than the patches which you feel detract from your appearance.

DAYLIGHT SAVING SCHEDULE ASKED

Railroad Commission Urges Immediate Action In Power Shortage

A definite request for a daylight saving schedule was made today to Governor Friend W. Richardson yesterday by the State Railroad commission, at a session held in his Los Angeles office and attended by members of the commission, engineers, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Citizens committee and the power interests of Southern California.

Commissioners Brundage, Seavey and Shore presented the matter to the governor with a strong recommendation that immediate action on daylight saving be taken. Chief Engineer Ready and A. V. Gillon, acting power supervisor, corroborated statements offered by the commission in support of the recommendation.

Governor Richardson has taken the matter under consideration and is expected to render a decision as soon as he has gone into the points raised at the meeting.

The members voted to postpone the meeting next Friday night on account of the holiday. The post will take no action or participate in any July Fourth celebration as a post, it was announced last night. W. H. Purchase of the lot at Stocker street and Central avenue by the Murphy Tent Comedians, and the proposed erection of the largest outdoor show amphitheatre on the Pacific coast, is announced today by A. H. Voelker, local manager of the Frank Melrose company. The Murphy Tent Comedians have been showing on this lot in a large tent since their recent trouble in Glendale when they were forced to move from Brand boulevard and California avenue.

The amphitheatre, according to the announcement, will be 275 feet long and 150 feet wide, with a large stage in the center. A check for the lot, priced at $51,000, was handed Mr. Voelker by J. A. Menard, manager, and one of the proprietors of the show. Construction on the amphitheatre will start in the immediate future, Mr. Menard said.

Back From Vacation In Yosemite Valley

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jencks of 409 North Maryland avenue arrived home yesterday from two and a half weeks' sojourn in Yosemite valley and other places in the north. They report a splendid outing with ideal weather and fine roads to travel over. While away they visited Glacier point, the Big Trees, and Yosemite. They state that they saw little water in the falls in the valley and that there was scarcely any snow.

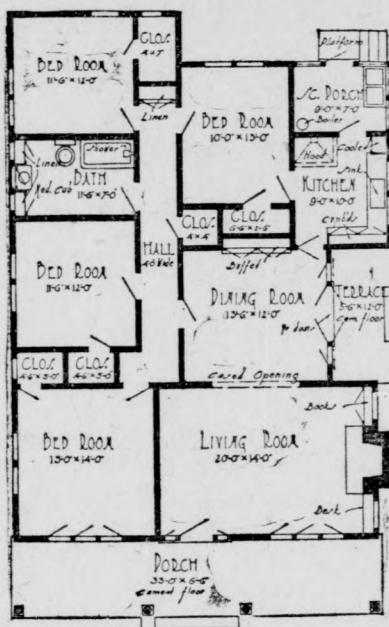

Grass Fire Damages Garage; Auto Burns

A grass fire late yesterday afternoon damaged to the extent of $10 the garage of Mrs. Arrena Powell of 114 East Laurel street. It was extinguished by the fire department.

Earlier in the afternoon a small coupe belonging to L. Lamont of 320 Eoad's End took fire from a short circuit and brought the fire department to the scene. The damage was negligible.

Includes Four Bedrooms

The arrangement of the home shown below permits abundant accommodation for a large family, one of the attractive features being the more than average amount of storage space provided.

It is very seldom that a one-story home embodies four bedrooms and yet here is a structure that can be placed upon a 50-foot lot, has an overall measurement of 34½ feet by 48 feet and is shown with four bedrooms. If desired, the center rear bedroom could be converted into a breakfast room or sewing room without changing the plan in the least. This home has plenty of storage space, there being five closets not counting the many built-in cupboards. The living room whose size is 14 by 20 is made to appear even larger by the open space between it and the dining room. A mantel is placed in the living room with bookcase and a built-in desk on each side. A terrace is placed in the recess adjoining the dining room and French doors open on to the terrace. The plan is one of many popular designs released by the architectural department of Pacific Ready-Cut Homes, Inc., through the Low Building Company, authorized distributors for Glendale, and vicinity, 416 East Colorado street.

objects of the organization, stating that villages are growing into cities and need a real boulevard program, as well as planning their sewers and parks systems co-ordinately.

"The valley has come to a place where development should come along orderly lines," he told the assemblage.

Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles, speaking of the metropolis' destiny, said the city should go to the Colorado river and bring that supply of power and water to build an empire on the Pacific coast that will rank as the largest and most important in the world. "We must now prepare for that oncoming rush of population and build greater. Now is the time to launch public improvements which will give employment to many people and put money in circulation," he advised.

R. W. Pridham, first vice-president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and former supervisor, told of the industrial survey now being made in the San Fernando valley, and compared values of yesteryear with those of today.

"The annexed territory of Los Angeles in the San Fernando valley now is assessed at more than $25,000,000, all of which has been produced from $500,000 valuation in 1911."

Supervisor Henry W. Wright recounted the fact that Los Angeles county has a population in excess of that of ten New England states and its assessed valuation is greater than that of any one of fourteen states.

"Of $400,000 appropriated for new roads recently, $260,000 has been spent by the county in the San Fernando valley," he said. "And $200,000 now is available for Cahuenga pass widening and $100,000 for the widening of San Fernando road from Dayton avenue to Glendale."

Boyle Workman, president of the Los Angeles City Council, pointed to the necessity for roads, playgrounds and municipal buildings which he said Los Angeles will give its annexed territory in due time. Incidentally, he mentioned the fact that $50,000 was appropriated yesterday to employ additional outside assistance for the city engineer's office which is two years behind in its work.

To Start On Dam
J. W. Reagan, chief engineer of the county flood control program, pointed with pride to the 70 per cent vote given at the last bond election for $35,000,000 flood control bonds and promised that work on the Pacoima dam would start in September if no unforeseen circumstances intervened.

After reading a message from Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the traffic commission, Chairman Merrick introduced J. H. Ryerson, secretary of that body, who furthered the statement of his chief that the need for arterial highways into the San Fernando valley is acute. He said that the boulevard program for Los Angeles county should be spoken of in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

O. A. Vickrey, past president of the Los Angeles Realty board, called the valley the breadbasket of Los Angeles and suggested that the land adjacent to the city's reservoirs be parked.

John Prince of the city and county regional planning commission made the one outstanding speech of the evening in which he covered practically all of the subjects under consideration. The great needs of the valley he listed follows:

1. Flood control.
2. The improvement of Riverside drive, which is dependent on the early completion of the flood control work along Los Angeles river bed.
3. The completion of Victory boulevard from Burbank to Camarillo.
4. The completion of Mulholland drive from Laurel canyon to Tarzana.

Mr. Prince also urged the immediate widening of San Fernando boulevard to 100 feet width to carry the load.

"Railroads are not looking forward enough," he said, "in getting right of way to the valley cities, and the highways already are saturated. Rails will never give way to rubber. If you will give San Fernando valley rapid transit, you will win the people to the valley as a residential section," he concluded.

Chairman Merrick then introduced D. W. Pontius of the Pacific Electric, who listened to the advice of the planners and boosters with open mindedness.

Willis Owen, industrial surveyor for the late E. H. Harriman, speaking of the future for the valley, said that its 200,000 and MONTROSE, June 28.—Masses of beautiful flowers filled the Montrose schoolhouse last night when the Roscenta Community chorus met for the last time this season. Mrs. A. F. Q. McDonald and Mr. Prosper which the chorus sang.

Mrs. Hopkins presented such artists as Miss Eleanor Clark of the New York and Boston conservatory of music and J. Albert Hanna of the Chicago conservatory.

Miss Clark and Mr. Hanna, playing the violin and cornet respectively, rendered Liebestraum, Liszt, and Cobb's "Driftwood," accompanied by Mrs. R. Q. McDonald.

Mrs. Mary B. Darrow presented her humorous Swede character impersonation, "A Movie Queen's Personal Appearance," and "The Beggar Woman's Gold."

After appropriate speeches by Mrs. A. F. Hopkins, Mrs. R. Q. McDonald and Mr. Prosper, "Taps," sung by the entire assembly, concluded the first year of the La Crescenta Valley Community sing.

more acres of valley and hillside lands would be increased from $40,000,000 value to $400,000,000 in five years' time by proper planning, scientific publicity and people. He showed where $200,000,000 value could be added to the valley's resources by publicity alone.

Truth Will Prevail
"There is nothing to prevent the San Fernando valley from becoming the residential and industrial miracle of America," he concluded, "except lack of vision." He assured his hearers that he believed they had it.

Robert L. Hanley of Van Nuys told how Sepulveda boulevard from San Fernando to the sea would bring the valley closer to the port of Los Angeles and the west coast beaches.

Other speakers included Carl Bush, secretary of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce; S. H. Woodruff of Hollywoodland, who told of the future for the hillside; and George W. Brunton, secretary of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, who said "you can tell all of the lies about Southern California and the truth will surpass them tomorrow."

LOOK TO FUTURE, HANSON'S ADVICE

Realtors' President Urges

ified the situation will clear as soon as the November election is over," Mr. Hanson says. "Meanwhile, what is Glendale going to do? Why, take stock and look to the future. It is at such a time as this that public improvements, parks, streets, buildings, bridges, water and power plants and other vital municipal work should be undertaken.

Approves Program
"I wholeheartedly endorse the program outlined by the Citizens' Bond committee. It is opportune, because it meets a situation; it is germane, because it is relevant to our continued prosperity; and it is profitable, because it creates work and provides a market for material and labor, thus returning with interest every dollar expended by the people in bonding the city for the work.

"In asking representatives of the various local civic organizations to form a committee for the consideration of vital public improvements, the City Council has done the biggest thing in its history, and the residents of Glendale are gladly responding to this call to duty. A unanimous recommendation by the Citizens' Bond committee means the certainty that the Council will submit to the vote of the people a bond issue on the improvement or improvements recommended.

Need Improvements
"In this emergency hour there are serious problems before the people of Glendale, but they can all be solved by a hearty, generous organizations in the city, of which the Citizens' Bond committee is an example.

"Back east, the cities I visited are, almost without exception, far ahead of us in public improvements, such as parks, playgrounds, public buildings and highways. To bring those people here and expect them to make Glendale their home, we must offer them physical facilities at least equal to what they enjoyed back there. Climate is not everything.

Eyes On California
"Everywhere I went, people are looking toward California, and particularly, especially southern California, with longing eyes. Everyone back there who has made a study of the situation believes that once it is decided who will be president of the United States for the next four years, there will be a migration to this beautiful southland such as has never before been seen. Figures show there are no less than 5,000,000 people with the money, ready to pack up bag and baggage and head for the southwest, just as soon as they see which way the political and financial winds are blowing."

What Is Buick Going To Do?

Many Rumors Are Afloat Concerning
Buick's Next Step in the Automotive World

WHAT is Buick going to do? This question has been on the lips of everyone for the last few days. Always a subject of speculation among motorists and members of the industry alike, the plans of the Buick Motor Company for its 1925 year have become a topic of conversation everywhere since the rumors have become current. That there is something in the air is almost certain that Buick will continue the general character of its appearance which has been the 1924 model.

Of course it is expected that there will be important refinements and improvements both inside and under the hood. In fact, Buick's policy of building automobiles has been so thorough in every phase that each new contribution to its line has been characterized by definite advances in better mechanical operation, riding qualities, economy and other features of internal design, as well as in the improvement of the external appearance and appointments.

Meanwhile, the entire Buick organization continues to remain silent. There is, however, a hint in this silence that presages something for the near future.

Having created such a focus of attention to its plans by the announcements of other years and the steps forward that Buick has made with the production of each new model, the public again looks to Buick to provide the season's greatest achievement in the motor car.

There is a widespread rumor that Buick will make a radical change in the appearance and models. The overwhelming endorsement of the beauty and grace of the present design makes it seem almost certain that Buick will continue the general character of its appearance which has been the 1924 model.
